

This plan is just a bad idea. There is too much restructuring in this plan that doesn't make sense. The technician class was brought in years ago as an "entry level"... now we are going to add another? At this pace will will be a group of entry level classes with little skill and knowledge. The RM-10868 is a much better plan with much more thought.